DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Examiner acknowledges receipt of the restriction requirement on 12/24/03. A new rejection in response to Applicant's amendments from papers filed 07/22/03 is detailed below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-2, 4-26, and 31-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by US Patent No. 6,394,907 to Rowe. Rowe is specifically directed to a cashless instrument validation system for casinos to provide ubiquitous player transaction management across local as well as disparate casino operations (Abstract). Rowe teaches receiving pay-out voucher identification at a wireless device, automatically transmitting pay-out voucher information to a central server and dispensing a pay-out voucher, creating a voucher record in a database, transmitting a pay-out request to a central computer, paying out and updating voucher information, and displaying voucher approval or disapproval (2:39-4:55). Figures 2 and 3 show a network layout of the anticipated system that includes player terminals, central administration, and wireless terminals. Rowe points out that the cashless instrument could be one of a ticket (3:1-5), all transactions are stored in a central database (3:9-12), a method of validating cash transactions (3:29-49), a validation device could be a wireless terminal (4:28-31), and sending a error message from the server when cash transaction request is denied (4:53-55).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12/24/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant amended claims, which resulted in a new rejection. The full details of Examiner's rejection are provided above. In regard to the restriction requirement Examiner agrees that claims of Group III can be examined with the claims of Group I. As such, claims 31-34 were examined with the claims of Group I.

Citation of Pertinent Prior Art

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

US Pat. 6,048,269 to Burns et al. teaches a method for casinos to use game tickets to replace currency.

US Pat. 5,770,533 to Franchi teaches a casino operating system that uses a network to manage all casino processes.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

Art Unit: 3713

MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
